

It all starts here

A close-up photograph of a person's hands holding several large, colorful binders (blue, green, red) filled with papers. The person is wearing a striped sweater. The background is blurred, showing other people in a classroom or office setting.

If you're interested in higher education, get yourself to a UCAS convention!

50 higher education conventions held every year – right across the UK.

- Get face time with admissions staff and subject specialists
- Find out what life's like on and off campus
- Discover more about volunteer work, gap year adventures, and working life
- Free to attend – for students, parents, and advisers

Take a look at our events calendar at
